UC STUDENT WORKERS UNION
SANTA CRUZ
UAW LOCAL 2865

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
Press Release: 2/28/2018
Headline: Contract negotiations begin with UAW 2865 and University of California

Santa Cruz, CA – On February 28th, student workers from across the University of California (UC) system will begin collectively negotiating a new employment contract. Members of the Union are demanding a "UC for all" bargaining strategy which calls for higher wages, better benefits, full fee remission, affordable housing, and sanctuary campuses for Academic Student Employees (ASEs).

Negotiations continue at UC campuses until a tentative agreement is reached between the union and University of California Office of the President. The current contract expires on June 30th 2018.

The university's reaction to bargaining discussions reflects its intention to continue business as usual. Graduate Teaching Assistants, Graduate Student Instructors, Tutors, Readers, and Writers, represented by the union, have different perspectives about the impact of negotiations.

Michelle Glastow, a UC Santa Cruz Graduate Teaching Assistant commented on the impending sessions: "Contracts aren't only about Teaching or Graduate Assistants. Negotiations are about demanding a transformation of academic workload, wages, and quality of public education at the University of California."

The first day of bargaining is expected to draw out many student-workers and supporters among supportive UC unions. The list of the bargaining goals are available at https://bit.ly/2VzFg3d
